Kenneth Jackson, co-owner of K&W Truck Repair, had owned Miller® and Lincoln® welders. And while he relies on many other Snap-on products, he had never tried a Snap-on® welder. Until, that is, a friend encouraged him to demo his newly-acquired MM250SL-CAN.

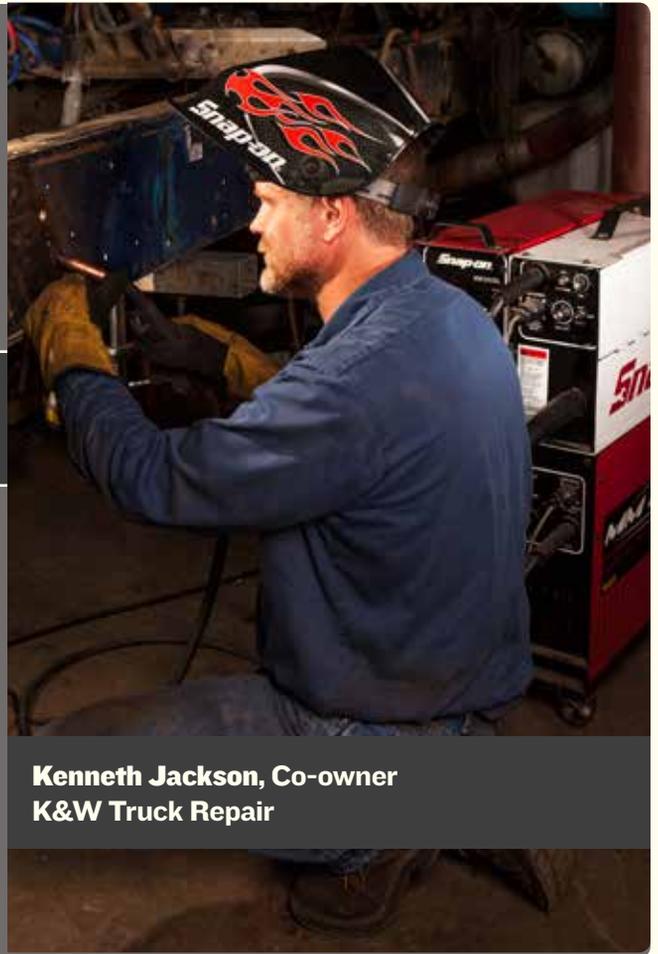

Ken was so impressed, he bought his own MM250SL-CAN with the aluminum spool gun a week later. It was a quick decision that's out of character for Ken, as he states, "Normally I do a lot of research before purchasing a product like this, but I knew it was a great welder the minute I tried it."

"Once I tried the Snap-on Welder, I had to have it."

In addition to its versatility for general repair needs, Ken also praises its easy-to-use adjustments and settings with consistent welding performance. "The Snap-on Spool Gun is great...others aren't nearly as smooth," he says.

Clearly, Ken feels the MM250SL-CAN demonstrates that he's serious about being the premier shop for the Class-8 diesel vehicles he services. Which also explains why his other welding units "just sit in the corner of the garage, unused."

Considering the class-leading specs of the MM250SL-CAN, in every important category, we think you'll share Ken's opinions. Ask your Snap-on Representative for a demo of your own.
